ABOUT

Do you know that feeling when you discover something beautiful and you just want to share it with other people? Well, that's me!

Experiencing, learning, and sharing have always been my mantra in life and work. I began my journey by sharing photos from the travels I undertook out of passion, during the vacations from what was, in 2016, my job as a technical sales representative.

Life is incredibly short, and I believe everyone should make the most of each and every day to learn more about the world and themselves. That's the mindset I had when I decided to embark on my journey into the world of photography and content creation, and it still rings true today.

Ever since my first trip abroad, I fell in love with capturing the beauty of the world through the lens of my camera. Traveling allowed me to make mistakes and, in turn, learn a great deal about what is now my profession. I was influenced by other cultures, different styles, and people who knew more than I did, and after 6 years, I've arrived at my own personal vision of this profession. My purpose today is to help individuals and businesses tell their stories and express themselves on digital platforms in the best version of themselves, effectively conveying their vision and mission through the creation of video and photo content.
